Alliant National Title Insurance Company Adds
Vice President and Colorado Counsel

Extensive Colorado legal and title insurance industry experience serves Independent Agents

LONGMONT—Alliant National Title Insurance Company, a unique title insurance underwriter that partners with Independent Agents to improve their competitive position in the marketplace, is pleased to announce that Margaret M. Cook, Esq., has joined Alliant National’s legal team as Vice President and Colorado Counsel. Cook’s primary responsibilities rest in Colorado; however, she has extensive claims experience throughout the United States. She will provide underwriting support to Colorado, Arizona and Nevada Independent Agents.

She serves the industry in a variety of critical capacities, including being elected as Chair of the Colorado Division of Insurance’s Title Advisory Committee. Cook has also served on the Board of Directors of the Land Title Association of Colorado (LTAC), and has been a speaker for many organizations, including: the Land Title Association of Colorado, the Idaho Land Title Association, the Colorado Association of Certified Closers, the North Metro Denver Realtor Association, the South Metro Denver Realtor Association and the Aurora Association of Realtors.

“Margaret’s experience, her thoughtful analytical skills, and her willingness to work diligently to get the job done, have resulted in her being honored with positions on the Board of Directors for the Land Title Association of Colorado and on the Colorado Title Advisory Council,” says Dave Ginger, Alliant National President. “We are thrilled to have a leader on our team who is exceedingly knowledgeable about current title insurance issues, and who is also a respected and known industry expert.”

Cook brings fifteen years experience in the Colorado title insurance industry and five years private law practice experience to Alliant National’s Independent Agents. Her experience includes working as underwriting counsel for a national title insurance underwriter and its affiliated title agency, including providing underwriting support for commercial and residential title closings. She also served as chief claims counsel for a national underwriter, supervising all aspects of the company’s claims in thirty-six states. She received her Juris Doctorate degree in 1990 from the University of Mississippi School of Law and a Bachelor of Business Administration in 1987 from the University of Mississippi.

Alliant National’s mission is to protect property owners’ investment by providing secure title insurance delivered by the finest Independent Agents available. Alliant National provides a partnership environment with its agents that improves the accuracy, efficiency and timeliness of its products, while improving the knowledge base of its agents, and offering the best title products and services possible.
